Defendant's Notes
1.	Defendant reserves the right to modify, supplement, alter, and/or withdraw its counter-designations, including in response to any pre-trial or trial rulings by the Court, any stipulations entered into by the parties, or any evidence introduced at trial. Defendant also reserves the right to re-designate any testimony previously designated by Plaintiff in the event Plaintiff withdraws its designations.
2.	Defendant reserves the right to use any of its counter-designations or Plaintiff's designations in response to any of Plaintiff's designations or in response to any other testimony Plaintiff offers at trial. Defendant's counter-designations may counter more than one portion of testimony designated by Plaintiff.
3.	Defendant's designation of any testimony does not waive any objections to the introduction of such testimony if offered by Plaintiff for any reason.
4.	Defendant reserves the right to modify, supplement, alter, and/or withdraw its objections to any of Plaintiff's designations. Defendant specifically reserves the right to object to testimony referring to documents or other material that Plaintiff withdraws from the exhibit list.
5.	Defendant's objections to any testimony designated by Plaintiff apply to any documents or other material referred to in that testimony, and vice-versa. The failure to object to any testimony that refers to a document is not a concession that the document referred to is any way admissible. Defendant generally objects to the admission of any and all exhibits that are referred to in designated testimony for which Plaintiff failed to establish authenticity, lay a proper foundation, or otherwise failed to establish a necessary predicate for admission.
6.	Where Defendant objects to a deposition question as duplicative (asked and answered), Defendant incorporates by reference any and all objections to the prior question(s).
7.	Should the Court sustain any of Defendant's objections, Defendant reserves the right to modify, supplement, remove, and/or alter Defendant's counter-designations.
8.	Defendant objects to Plaintiff's designation of non-testimony that repeats or refers to testimony provided in prior depositions. Defendant's identification of specific objections to Plaintiff's designation of such testimony does not waive or narrow Defendant's objection to the use of all such testimony.
9.	Defendant objects to Plaintiff's designation of fragments of testimony. Defendant's identification of specific objections to Plaintiff's designation of such testimony does not waive or narrow Defendant's objection to the use of all such testimony.
10.	Defendant objects to Plaintiff's designation of testimony that is subject to the Court's pre-trial and trial evidentiary rulings. Defendant's identification of specific objections to Plaintiff's designation of such testimony does not waive or narrow Defendant's objection to the use of all such testimony.
11.	Defendant objects to Plaintiff's designation of attorney colloquy.
12.	In addition to the Federal Rules of Evidence and the Federal Rules Civil Procedure, where appropriate, Defendant's objections refer to and incorporate by code the objections listed below and the relevant Federal Rules underpinning the same.
